

Matt Novogratz, Senior Vice President, Head Of Partnerships and Business Development, Candy Digital

As Senior Vice President, Head of Partnerships, Matt is responsible for business development and overseeing the company's relationships with both league partners and athletes. A lifelong trading card collector and a crypto enthusiast, this role provides him a unique opportunity to explore combining sports with digital assets and the underlying tech.

Prior to joining Candy Digital, Matt ran the sports investing business at Galaxy where he sat at the intersection of blockchain and sports. Previously, Matt held leadership positions at various investment banks, most recently serving as Director of FX Sales at RBC.
