

Rick Jordan

Vice President, DICK'S Sporting Goods Foundation

Rick grew up outside of Pittsburgh, PA, and attended Pennsylvania State University. Ready for a new challenge, Rick drove across the country and joined the Las Vegas community. After starting a family and having some amazing life experiences, he moved back to the Steel City in 2017.

As a purpose-driven leader with over 15 years of human resources experience, he has worked for Nemaquin Woodlands Resort, The Cosmopolitan of Las Vegas Resort & Casino, Zappos.com, UPMC, and is currently the Vice President of the DICK'S Sporting Foundation at DICK'S Sporting Goods.

In his current role at the DICK'S Foundation, Rick and his team are committed to making an impact in the communities they serve, focusing on three key areas: inspiring and enabling youth sports participation, disrupting education, and preserving and protecting our public lands. When he is not working with his talented teammates at DICK'S, you can find him exploring Pittsburgh's rich culture and history, spending time with his family, and testing his culinary skills at home.
